Local Ecumenical Series Concludes Sunday Night

Final services in the Ecumenicity series conducted in the Laguna Hills-El Toro-Mission Viejo areas will be held on Pentecost Sunday, June 2, with the clergy of participating Protestant churches assisting in the Service of Witness.

Culmination of the six-weeks-long program will be held at the Methodist Church, Rev. Alec Nichols, located on Moulton Parkway in Laguna Hills this Sunday at 8 p.m.

Principal speaker obtained by the group of local clergymen will be Dr. K. Morgan Edwards who is the Gerald Kennedy Professor of Preaching at the School of Theology, Claremont, California. He has served in this capacity since 1961.

Dr. Edwards received his Bachelor of Divinity at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, New Jersey, in 1938, and did graduate studies at the University of South California from 1941 to 1946. He is the recipient of an Honorary L.H.D. from the California College of Medicine in 1955.

Besides being a noted lecturer and teacher, Dr. Edwards has written the following publications: "Hoping to be Somebody," Abingdon Press, 1959; "More Than Survival," Abingdon Press, 1961; and numerous articles in religious journals and periodicals.

He was born in Plymouth, Pennsylvania in 1912, and is married to the former Evelyn Marie Sheetz. They have four sons and two grandsons.

Clergy participating in the service to take place this Sunday, June 2, represent all of the churches taking part in this ecumenical series.

In order of their participation, they are: The Rev. Edward J. Caldwell, Geneva Presbyterian Church of Laguna Hills;

El Toro Brush Fire Contained

by Dan C. Wooldridge -
News Editor

A typical quiet El Toro Thursday afternoon was disturbed last week by the howling and clanging of fire truck sirens rushing to put out a brush fire.

The blaze began at 2:45 p.m., in a field near the railroad tracks on El Toro Road. Brush burned out of control until units from El Toro and Leisure World arrived to put the blaze out.

Captain Vogue of the Orange County Fire Department estimated one acre of brush land was burned by the fire in the large field across from the El Toro Pet Hospital. Standing amid a large group of youngsters, the fireman replied to my question of who started the fire by shrugging his shoulders and gesturing toward the children. "Normally fires of this type are set by youngsters playing with matches," Vogue stated.

Homes in the nearby Laguna North 5 and 6 tracts were in no danger due to prompt action by the firemen.

A sidelight of the fire was when Mrs. Jan Ventrone, wife of the RANCHO REPORTER publisher who arrived at the office, located near the fire scene, in time to give Ray Prothero Jr., one of the El Toro volunteer firemen, a ride to the fire.

city Park parents who had questions concerning the course offerings and schedule at Irvine School, the group has been instrumental in having the science offering restored to the 7th grade program at Irvine after the plan was announced to eliminate it for next year. It was also due to the group's suggestion that the School Board has set up a Citizens' Study Committee on the 7th and 8th grade programs at Irvine and La Paz Schools.

At its next meeting the group will decide what specific approaches to take on a wide range of problems and areas of concern including:

- 1) the possibility of establishing educationally handicapped classes;
- 2) the apparently high rate of teacher turnover;
- 3) the reportedly high proportion of first-year teachers;
- 4) the allegedly low salary scale for teachers;
- 5) the sources and amount of District funds;
- 6) the possibility of establishing an "appropriate placement" curriculum in this District.

Any citizen who is interested in the above areas or who has identified other district-wide problems which deserve study and/or group action is urged to attend the next meeting Thursday, June 13, 8 p.m. at 17951 Bascom in University Park. Further information is available by calling Dr. Guy Sircello, 833-0402.

Irvine Parents Group Outlines San Joaquin District Hot Spots

By DR. GUY SIRCELLO
Guest Writer

The Irvine School Mothers' and Fathers' Improvement Association resolved at its last meeting to expand its area of concern to cover any aspect of the San Joaquin School District which presents itself as a problem to the parents and citizens of the district. The group also resolved to make a concerted effort to include in its membership interested persons in all sections of the school district.

Diablo Journalists Win Press Honors

Two Mission Viejo High School journalism students won honors last week from the journalism department of Santa Ana College at the school's 14th annual journalism day.

Winners from the local high school were Scott Cooper and Patty Hartley. Both students are presently on the Diablo Dispatch, the Mission Viejo high school's newspaper.

Cooper won 2nd place as "best all around journalist" and Miss Hartley won 2nd place in the "best news story" category.

El Toro Road Overpass Costly And Not Needed

The best thinking of our civic minded friends in the area — and of this newspaper — is that the tentative plan of the Orange County Road Department for an overpass at El Toro Road and the Railroad Tracks should be rejected.

Instead of the overpass a four lane highway — with divider — should be installed. Double, automatic gates should be installed at the railroad crossing. This action would mean that the Lutheran Church and the El Toro Animal Hospital would not have to be altered or removed.

There is ample room for four lanes on El Toro Road without removing our historical landmarks such as part of the grounds of the St. George's Episcopal Church, the original St. Nicholas Church and the Women's Club, formerly called the "Town House."

There are two roads — Canada, one mile West, and Alicia, one mile East, that are scheduled by the County to become major arterial highways. We believe these two are sufficient without any construction of an overpass — or underpass — on El Toro Road at the railroad tracks.

We believe considerable saving of money by the State, County and the Santa Fe Railroad would be made since they all contribute to overpass and underpass construction. This change of road construction concept could be made without loss of safety to our residents.

EDITORIAL:

Total Planned Community An Exciting Concept...

Phil Reilly, president of the Mission Viejo Co., gave an interesting and informative talk last week to the local Kiwanis Club.

He traced the history of the company since its beginning in 1963 and how it has developed into the fastest growing planned community in America.

Simply stated, the community is planned for the needs and for the satisfaction of the customer. The customer foots the bill and the company gives the customer what he wants.

In reality, however, the whole concept is very complex since the company plans for a total community: homes of various price range, business, school, churches and economic supply and demand.

Flexibility, with an eye to change and demand, are two of the guidelines of the successful planned community. Long range planning for the 53,000 acre ranch — which feeds the building sites — will change as the area grows and develops.

This newspaper, in the future, hopes to do some in-depth stories on the Mission Viejo Co. portraying the concepts, the drawing boards and the reality. Housing history is being made here as well as offering raw material for the sociologist, the economist and for those of us interested in what tomorrow's America will be like.

35th DISTRICT

Jim Utt's insight and leadership truly represents America's most amazing district. On 1968's "big issues": he urged local police aid when crime rates first jumped in the '50s; he spotted our dangerous "gold drain" in '58; foresaw the Administration's "no-win" Vietnam war in '62, and fought eight years of rubber-stamped planned deficits producing today's inflation and domestic financial crisis. Five other Congressmen are apportioned to help represent his original 1952 district, but Jim Utt's 35th continues to lead the nation in solid achievement and promise. During 16 years in Washington this district has led the nation and Jim Utt has earned unusual importance and prestige because he is right by you.

Saddleback Forms Available Locally

Survey applications for students planning to attend Saddleback College in September are available at various locations throughout the communities in the college district.

Applications for full-time and part-time students, along with a list of course offerings, are provided at municipal civic centers, chambers of commerce offices and libraries. Applications are also available at Saddleback College office, 25001 La Paz Rd., Mission Viejo.

Superintendent Jack S. Roper of Saddleback College urged prospective students to complete forms. Graduating seniors who have pre-registered for admission to Saddleback College at their respective high schools are not required to fill out the survey applications, however, Supt. Roper explained.

Part-time students may attend the regular day classes or at evening in the extended day program. College credit courses will be offered in the extended day program.

Classes will commence September 23. Registration will be September 19 - 20.

"This building and my office are open to the general public including all non-Leisure World people and I cordially invite them to drop by," stated Don Marsh.

Marsh opened his State Farm Insurance Agency on May 13 which is located in the Rossmoor Building (Taj Mahal) in Suite 303 A. State Farm specializes in auto, life, and fire insurance according to agent Marsh.

Marsh, a native Californian, married wife Carol in 1959 and since 1965 they have resided at 24272 McCoy Road in El Toro. The Marsh's have two children; daughter Kristen, age five and son Kendall, age three. Both children currently attend the La Paz Preschool and Kristen will start next fall at Gates School.

The personable Marsh and his family moved into this area in 1965 and Don says it is an ideal area since he can work, live, and worship in the same place. The Marsh's are charter members of the Presbyterian Church of the Master in Mission Viejo and Don is an elder of the church.

Marsh has been with State Farm since 1963 and for the last four years has had his own office. Sitting in his well furnished office atop the Taj Mahal, Marsh expressed satisfaction with State Farm which is the leader in auto insurance and is the fastest growing large life insurance company.

The State Farm Agency will provide you with a free road atlas compliments of Don Marsh if you drop by his office.

Rehab Center Conducts New Saturday Recreation Program

Each Saturday a large number of physically handicapped children from throughout Orange County gather at the Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children and Adults in Orange to take part in a unique new recreation program for the physically handicapped.

Begun just last month, the program has been received enthusiastically by the children, according to the Center's executive director Prain Singh. There is no charge for the Saturday program, sponsored by the Center for handicapped children from 3 through 11 years old.

The theory behind the recreation program, according to Singh, is that group play and recreation is essential to the healthy personal and physical development of disabled children. "For children, play is a vitally important factor in their physical, emotional, and social development," said Singh.

There are no limitations as to the kind of physical handicaps the children in the program may have, Singh said, but each child must have written permission from his parents and doctor to participate.

The morning sessions, from 9:30 to 11:30, are open to children 3 through 7 years of age. Boys and girls from 8 through 11 years attend activities from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Additional children in both categories are welcome, but they must enroll in the program to participate.

In addition to the Saturday for-fun program, many of the children receive week-day rehabilitation services and treatment at the Center. The Center offers a broad range of rehabilitation services for both children and adults.

DAR Dedicates Local Sycamore State Historical Landmark

The numberless Indians who might have rested in its shade, their women who ground their acorns beneath its branches, the weary soldiers of a Catalonian scouting party who paused to bathe in its nearby stream marched silently through the imaginations of spectators as Paul W. Colburn wove the history of the giant sycamore in Aliso Park, Leisure World, when it was dedicated as a California landmark last week.

The talk by Colburn, Leisure World ranger-naturalist, highlighted dedication services conducted by Aliso Canyon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution in Aliso Park, site of the sycamore since before the Pilgrims landed.

The tree was originally referred to as "aliso", a name meaning literally "alder", but its popular usage has been perpetuated since early California days when the Spaniards misnamed it.

Colburn, addressing the more than 100 residents, Leisure World Foundation and Laguna Hills division dignitaries who attended, paid tribute in his talk to what he calls "one of California's most artistic of trees, the western sycamore."

Meet three new owners of the Gas Company.

How can you tell?

Matter of fact, you can't—just by looking at them, because so many owners of the Gas Company look just like your neighbors. In fact, they probably are your neighbors. For the Gas Company (like any investor-owned company in America) is owned by all kinds of people from all walks of life.

There are more than 16 million shares of our business owned by people like barber Vince Cotlone. Some of these people bought our stock in their own names. Others may have become owners of the Gas Company by way of investments their employers have made for their pension plans. Still others, like Duke Morton (getting his hair cut), may have become owners because their grandfathers bought them shares as birthday presents.

People who have a financial stake in the Gas Company know that any company that can offer good service at reasonable rates is going to do all right. And that's the way we do business.

But whether you're an investor or not, the Gas Company works for you anyway. As an investor-owned company, regulated by the California Public Utilities Commission, we depend on your support. We do our best to deserve it.

That's why we work extra hard to please you.

Eugene Ober, music director of the Lyric Opera Association, will be assisted during the auditions by Howard Graham and Thomas B. Quillen, stage directors. Members of the audition committee are LeRoy Bartholomew, and Leon Ettinger of the Lyric Opera Board, Jack Coleman, chorus master, and Ruth Ann Vierling, member of the advisory board.

St. Nicholas Women Plan Candlelight Installation

St. Nicholas Council of Catholic Women will install its newly elected officers on the evening of June 19 in a candlelight ceremony in the Palm Room of the Newporter Inn in Newport Beach. Installing Officer will be Mrs. Neil McElrath, President of the Orange County Council of Catholic Women.

Those recently elected are: Mrs. Robert F. Harbor (re-elected) as President; Mrs. John Shannon as Executive Vice President; Miss Elizabeth Pedrotti as Vice President; Mrs. Duane Evans (re-elected) as Secretary; and Mrs. Donald Hammond as Treasurer.

A social hour will begin at seven o'clock on the Terrace of the hotel, followed by dinner in the adjoining Palm Room. Tickets are $3.50 for members and $5.50 for non-members or guests, and may be obtained by calling Mrs. Hammond at 837-2050. Transportation needs will be met by Mrs.

Richard Sproul, 837-5461.

Guests of honor will include Rev. Otto E. Sporer, Pastor of St. Nicholas, and Rev. Jerome E. Turba, his Assistant Pastor.

Seating capacity is limited therefore the Board of Directors urges anyone planning to attend to make early reservations for the dinner party which combines installation of officers and the Council's Annual Night Out.

Phi Alpha Kappa Hears Fund Drive

Multiple Sclerosis will begin its annual fund drive on June 1st, it was announced to Alpha Rho chapter of Phi Alpha Kappa according to Mrs. Glenn Cardin of El Toro.

Mr. Ralph Stillings, Orange County Director of Multiple Sclerosis, in a meeting with Alpha Rho, said he hoped for a successful drive using the door to door envelope pass rather than volunteer marchers.

Your contributions will be used to help discover the reason for M.S. by further research. This disease has been very elusive and to date there has been no discovery of the cause, therefore no cure. M.S. is called "the crippler of young adults" although it may strike in any age level, any environment and any economic level.

Please give generously when your neighbor passes the Multiple Sclerosis envelope to you. Help fight M.S.

Did she really fly over Ingersoll's barn? Is witchcraft really abroad in Salem? Colleen Clark, Danneile Kennedy, Karen Hildreth, and Ilene Gordon give the questions their full concern in the play "The Crucible" being presented by the "Rancho Community Players" at the Olivewood School Cafetorium on May 30, 31 and June 1 and again on June 7 and 8.

Rancho Player's "The Crucible" Opens May 30

By BUNNY HAMMER
Irvine Junior High School is well represented in the cast and crew of "The Crucible" the dramatic play by Arthur Miller being presented by the Rancho Community Players this weekend and next.

Art Gordon is directing the play being given in the Olivewood Cafetorium. Performances are May 30, 31 and June 1, and again on June 7 and 8.

Ilene Gordon and Colleen Clark are classmates in that school. Ilene plays the part of Mercy Lewis and Colleen plays Betty Parris. The girls' gym teacher is the roommate of Karen Hildreth, another teacher who plays the exciting role of Abigail Williams. Their English teacher at Irvine School, Joan Shipley, is in charge of make-up, a tedious job in a play which takes place in 1692 and in which several of the characters must show rapid aging and great hardship.

We would like to announce a correction in the price of student tickets.

They are $1.00 and not $1.25 as previously stated. Adult tickets are $1.75. Tickets may be obtained at the box-office space in the World of Leisure Travel office in the Torro Shopping Center, Mondays thru Saturdays from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. or by calling Mrs. Marge Rushforth at 830-2915. In the Irvine area, call Mrs. Jan Stearns at 833-1507.

El Toro Cancer Drive

"Mopping up" activity for the American Cancer Society Crusade is underway in El Toro, according to Mrs. Ray L. Young of 24622 Jutewood, El Toro Residential Crusade Chairman.

She urged residents to pass the kit to their neighbor as quickly as possible.

Following the map on the kit will assure every resident the opportunity of receiving cancer information.

The Society depends upon the Cancer Crusade to further its program of research, education and service to cancer patients.

YMCA Expects 1,000 In Summer Programs

YMCA Vice President for Program, Charles Benton, indicated this week that the "Y" expects well over 1,000 girls and boys to take part in Summer programs. Major programs will include these programs for all communities in South Orange County:

Day Camps - Girls and boys age 6½ to 11. Period one - June 17 to June 28; period two - July 1 to July 12; period three - July 15 to July 26; period four - July 29 to August 9; period five - August 12 to August 23. Front door pickup or pickup in the community area will be offered.

Mountain Camp - June 23 to June 29 - Boys age 9 to 12. Horseback riding, camp fires, crafts, swimming, hiking, meals, and lodging plus charter bus transportation to and from the Mission Viejo Plaza.

Employment - Young people from 14 to 23 will be placed in part and full-time jobs. Last summer placements rose to a new all time high average of 65 per week.

Sports Camp - Boys in the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth grade are invited to register for a twice-weekly sports camp.

Yosemite Caravan Number One - Jr. Hi Co-ed - Aug. 10 to 16. Trip includes side trips to Glacier Point, Tenaya Lake, and Tuolumne Meadows.

Big Sur Caravan - Hi School Co-ed - Aug. 18 to Aug. 24. Trip will base at State Park group campsite. Side trips to lighthouse, Monterey, swimming lakes and Hearst Castle will be included.

"Y" Director Roger Carter indicated "We expect triple the enrollment we had last year, and in addition to these programs, we will conduct teen activities in El Toro and Laguna Beach including sports nights, dances, discussion groups and coffee houses. We should have a busy Summer, all in all."

For more information, please call the "Y" at 494-9431 any week day from 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Reward For Lost Dogs

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones of El Toro will pay $50. to the person who finds their two lost Doberman Pinschers, one male and one female. The male will answer to the name of JoJo and the female is called Dutchess. These animals are very near and dear to the hearts of the Jones' and they would appreciate any calls that might lead to the whereabouts of these dogs. You can call them at: 837-1694.

Ecumenical Series

the Rev. Richard M. Bush, pastor, the Presbyterian Church of the Master, Mission Viejo; and the Rev. Fred W. Niedringhaus, pastor, the May Flower Congregational Church of Laguna Hills.

Other churches taking part in Ecumenicity series included The Rev. Frank L. Purnell, minister, the First Christian Church of Laguna Hills; the Rev. Vernon E. Kotter, pastor, the Lutheran Church of the Cross, Laguna Hills; the Rev. Frederick C. Hammond, pastor of St. George's Episcopal Church, El Toro-Laguna Hills, the Rev. Domenick Tamiotti, pastor, the Methodist Church of Mission Viejo; the Rev. Robert H. Lange, pastor of the Mt. of Olives Lutheran Church, Mission Viejo, and the Rev. Alec G. Nichols, pastor, the First Methodist Church of Laguna Hills.

The Rev. Fred Hammond, chairman of the steering committee said, "We are grateful to all who have helped in this ecumenical series, particularly Father Otto Sporrer, pastor of St. Nicholas Roman Catholic Church, for printing of our series program and the service folder; to Miss Elizabeth Pedrotti, a member of the St. Nicholas Church for handling so expertly our publicity and to the RANCHO REPORTER for their news stories."

Scout-O-Rama Tickets Available Locally

Public response to the annual Orange Empire Council Scout-O-Rama, planned for June 8 at the Orange County Fairgrounds, has been so brisk that a second printing of tickets has been necessary.

Dr. William Burns of Santa Ana, general chairman of the event, said that the initial order of 150,000 tickets are going so fast that another block of 80,000 tickets has been ordered.

The ticket sales are being handled by the more than 22,000 boys in the 580 Cub packs, Scout troops, and Explorer posts in the Council jurisdiction, which includes the beach cities from Huntington Beach to San Clemente, and the inland cities of Santa Ana, Tustin, Orange, Garden Grove, Westminster, Fountain Valley and El Toro.

Each of the boys selling tickets can profit individually as well as earn money for his troop. All Council profits go into a camp development fund.

The Scout spectacular, which this year has the theme of "Scouting Builds America," is the opportunity the public has to see all phases of scouting, an action planned program, designed to build character of the future leaders of America," Dr. Burns explained.

Reilly Tells Kiwanis "The Future of Mission Viejo"

By CARL E. VENSTROM

Phil Reilly, president of the Mission Viejo Co., was the guest speaker last week to members of the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo.

Reilly spoke on "The Future of Mission Viejo" to the local service club members and traced the history of the planned community and what the future holds for Mission Viejo.

"Three men and a secretary composed the Mission Viejo Co. in 1963," said Reilly. "Since then, barren hills have turned into a thriving community." He showed slides of the area before any housing, and also showed slides portraying the development of the planned community.

"Any plans for the future are relative," said Reilly, "since the planning changes according to the wishes of the new residents and what the buyers demand."

A planned community, said Reilly, covers a variety of priced homes, schools, churches and businesses. "A community such as this must be planned," said Reilly. "Planning for house space, neighborhood grouping and tax relationship must all be taken into consideration."

"The Mission Viejo Co.," said Reilly, "is constantly working for a balance between modern facilities available and what is economically practical for a customer over an eight year period."

The ranch on which the Mission Viejo Co. is being developed, said Reilly, includes 53,000 acres. "An industrial area is presently being considered for the area close to the El Toro end of the ranch."

"We are presently behind on our building," said Reilly. "The Mission Viejo Co. has grown faster than any other planned community in America."

"Not one penny of county money has been used in the development of Mission Viejo. We have developed our own streets and facilities," reported the president.

"Flexibility is constant in the planning of Mission Viejo since we plan as we grow to meet the demands of our customers," he said.

Reilly said you build a planned community to make money, and, the customer is the one to please.

Reilly was born and raised in Orange County. He lived in Santa Ana and attended the schools there, including Santa Ana College. He later received his A.B. and law degree from the University of Southern California.

Dave Weilein, Kiwanis member, introduced Reilly to members of the local service club. The Kiwanis club meets every Tuesday at 7 a.m. for breakfast in the Mission Viejo Inn. Bill Wells, manager of the local United California Bank in Mission Viejo, is presently President of the local service club.

Saddleback Adds Five to Faculty

Saddleback College has added five more instructors to its expected total of about 35 for opening classes in September.

Instructor Ronald E. Price, currently of Marina High School in Huntington Beach, has been assigned in the business science division. Four others have been assigned in the division of science, mathematics, engineering and technology.

They are Reynold J. Kero, currently at Imperial Valley College in El Centro; Lee W. Rhodes, currently teaching at Santa Maria High School in Santa Maria; Peter Tresselt, currently at Fullerton Junior College; and Jean M. Vincenzi, currently at Chapman College. Kero and Tresselt will be teaching geology, geography, engineering, and physical science. Rhodes will be assigned biology classes and Mrs. Vincenzi will instruct mathematics.

The instructors will assume duties in September. With six instructors employed last week, this brings Saddleback's total up to 11 instructors in addition to the five division chairmen who will also assume class assignments.
